

Dear Prospective Member,

The fact that you have expressed interest in learning more about cryonics and Alcor tells us a few things: You have more foresight, independent thinking, willingness to confront the failing nature of our bodies, and a stronger sense of adventure that makes a chance at being revived in a revitalized body in the future appealing rather than frightening.

I made cryopreservation arrangements with Alcor in 1986. For me, our directors, advisors, and others, ensuring that cryonics works is a profoundly personal endeavor, not simply a professional task and responsibility. This introductory Information Packet will convey some core information. No doubt you will still have many questions. You can get more answers from the detailed FAQ section on alcor.org and by calling us.

Here are a few crucial points. You will find support for them in this packet and far more comprehensively on Alcor's website:

- Cryonics is affordable for most people, not just for the wealthy.
- Cryonics is supported by direct scientific evidence and plausible assumptions about future repair and revival capabilities.
- Many tissues have been cryopreserved and revived. Revival of organs and organisms will happen.
- Cryonics is maybe the only way for you to reach the day when aging is cured and you can live indefinitely in excellent health.
- It's easy to take the first step. If you're not ready to make cryopreservation arrangements, Associate Membership allows you to stay in touch, receive Cryonics magazine and, if you do decide to go ahead, makes it easier to sign up – especially in an emergency.

Max More

President & CEO